Subject: Dismantling Myths of Investing

When: 29 July 2026, 5:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Where: Virtual

Webinar Agenda: Empirically tested investing principles can help protect investors against investing myths that have the potential to destroy their dreams.

In this session, we'll cover three big ideas:

- The hidden myths of investing that can quietly erode your investing confidence
- Why stock picking, market timing, and track-record investing may derail your family's dreams
- An empirically tested methodology, grounded in Nobel Prize-winning investing science, designed to help eliminate speculating and gambling with your money

If you've ever wondered why the investing world often feels unnecessarily stressful, this can be a great use of your time.

This is not a sales presentation. It's an educational event designed to help families avoid the most common mistakes that can turn investing into speculating and gambling, often without people even realizing it.
